Mr. Anuj is the employer and sends Ajay in search of the pet cat which was missing for 3 days. After Ajay left in search of the cat Anuj advertise In a newspaper saying that whoever finds the cat will give a reward of Rs.10,000. Ajay find it and the reward ignored can he claim the reward. Justify your answer.

Ans :

The given case is under the chapter of offer and acceptance. Offer refers to the signification by one person to another of his willingness to enter in to a contract with him on certain terms. It may be expressed or implied from the conduct of the parties.

In this set case Mr.anuj told to Mr.Ajay to search his cat. Mr. Ajay went for the search and after Ajay left in search of cat Anuj advertise in a newspaper saying that whoever finds his cat will give a reward of 10,000. Ajay find it but Mr. Anuj refuses to give reward.

Case : Lalman V/S Gauri Dutt

Gauri Dutt sent his servant Lalman in search of his missing nephew. Gauri Dutt announced a reward for information concerning the boy. Lalman traced the boy in ignorance of any such announcement. Subsequently Lalman came to know of this reward. He claimed it. Held –Lalman was not entitled to the reward

Judgement :

As mentioned above Mr. Anuj advertise the reward after Ajay went in search therefore in this case there is lack of communication. A person cannot accept an offer as long as he is unaware of its existence. Unless an offer is properly communicated there can be no acceptance of it. There can be no offer by a person to himself. An acceptance of an offer in ignorance of the offer is no acceptance at all and does not create any legal rights or obligations.

Therefore here in this case Mr. Anuj need not pay the reward amount to Ajay.

The three laws of electric charges are that like charges repel, unlike charges attract and that charged objects can be attracted to neutral objects. This means that two objects with the same charge push away from each other, while two objects with opposite charges pull towards each other.Atoms and objects can either be positively charged, negatively charged or neutral. Positive charges come from having more protons than electrons, and negative charges are a result of having more electrons than protons. When there is an equal number of protons and electrons, the object is neutral. All objects can be quantized by their charge based off of a numeric scale of unit e, which is the charge of a single electron. The law of movement, which claims that an "interaction" between two objects creates an equal and opposite reaction. Objects that interact in any case where there are two objects and interact with each other, are defined as an exercise force on the other. For example, exercise your body downwards sitting in a chair, then sit in the chair, which puts a force upwards on your body. This is the law of interaction - the two forces are at work - a force on your body and a force on the chair. Your body moving down is the force of action and the chair is the force of reaction. The law of interaction is defined by action and reaction. Interactivity in motion The forces described by Newton's third law are pushed or pulled interactions of an object. There are several interactions in play in the physics of movement. There are immediate contact interactions, where interactions between objects have direct contact. There are also distance interactions, where interaction occurs without direct contact. You can see this interaction with magnets or electricity. electricity.ET NOPU GNITCA ECROF EHT NO SDNeped Drawrof Themevom Sã A € € € wal eht desucof si, mutnemom fo wal eht delances eht eht ac eth ni drawcab dhwg yoth nesup nesup sts fo etar ghig a ta ylkciuq etarelecca ot strats taht rac a enigamI .ecrof lanretxe na yb nopu detca sselnu yaw taht niamer iliw etats noitom ro tser a ni si taht tcejbo na taht setaluttop wal tsrif eht .mutnemom fo wal eht si noitom fo wal dnoces Srh DNA, Aitreni notwen.
